

Early Learning Scholarship Maximum Registration Fees

Early Learning Scholarships can pay registration fees when a program charges registration fees to all families. All counties and two cities, Sartell and St. Cloud, are identified with a maximum registration fee based on the county where the program is located. There are separate maximum registration fees for licensed family child care and child care centers/school districts/charter schools/Head Start programs.

When a program charges a registration fee to enroll children in their program and the registration fee is not included in the program's tuition rate, Early Learning Scholarships can pay the registration fee up to the maximum registration fee. Early Learning Scholarships pay a maximum of two registration fees per child to one or more programs between July 1 and June 30.

If charged, Early Learning Scholarships can pay for registration fees on top of the award amount listed Early Learning Scholarships Maximum Award Amounts document posted on the Early Learning Scholarships webpage. Other fees charged to all children such as curriculum, material, transportation, activity, field trip, meal, etc. fees can be covered by the scholarship, but cannot be added onto the maximum award amount.
